NET FROCKS for the DANCE

Pink With Straight Bodice and Long Skirt

Quaint Ruffles Blue Net

Made of Pleated Flounces

Silver and White Net in a Train Effect

White Is Trimmed With Yellow Velvet

with pale blue satin ribbon. And all that the wearer has to do is to courtsey.

White net has a deep giraffe of yellow panna velvet and the short sleeves have frills of net that add a simple and effective finish to this type of sleeve. The top of the bodice is cut square, with a layer of tulle in above the giraffe line. The skirt is full and hangs over the satin dress. This is a simple way to make over a silk dance frock of another season.

The trained frock in a dance length is an attractive model in white net. The net is trimmed with bands of silver, which trim the wide giraffe and the edge of the square train that hangs from the shoulders at the back. This net dress is over a pale green satin underskirt, and is a fitting color combination for this type of gown.

In white net that is tucked in fine tucks and made in a very simple style is another dress that pleads for recognition and favor. It has a square-cut bodice and short sleeves. The waist line is slightly raised and the skirt has bands of net around the upper part and a deep flounce from the knees. The whole, being of blonde, can be washed, and a color note can be added by the corsage bouquet that the dancer might receive.

Pale pink is the color for the last frock of net, that has a deep giraffe of satin and long sleeves for a change. This has a band of lace at the top of the giraffe and narrow straps over the shoulders. The skirt is of pleated net and has a broad band of satin at the edge. The underdress is of satin.

And now, which net dress are you going to have? Every one will appeal, and it is for you to decide about color, line and trimming. The fabric has spoken for itself.

THERE are many names for the practical, filmy, attractive material of which the new dance frocks are made. Some women call it net; others know it as blonde, and over in Paris the word tulle is applied to it. At any rate, it is incomparable for the airy, easy-to-make dance frocks for the young woman who looks well in light colors and can wear a simple frock or a frilly thing. The net dress in white and colors trimmed in many unusual ways is before you. It will take the wearer, through all the steps, lead her out on the balcony to cool off and catch a cold, and then take her home fresh and unwrinkled, ready for the next dance and another success.

At any rate, look over these models and let them appeal to you for a verdict.

There is a pale blue frock of fine net with many ruffles and a dropped shoulder line that is a revival of the Victorian style and the second restoration. It has two ruffles over the shoulders, held down at one side under a velvet rose. The sleeves and chemise are of net and there are ruffles on the skirt below the hips and at the lower part, with ruffles catching the fullness here and there. The ruffles are bound

BILLY SUNDAY'S

FOURTH REVIVAL

SERMON

Subject—"WHO WAS JESUS?"

BY THE REV. BILLY SUNDAY

(Copyright, 1915, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

Some time ago I was startled by having this question put out upon the headlines of a daily newspaper: "WHO WAS JESUS?"

Well, let us try to find out who he was from some of the people who lived when he was here in the flesh, and who had this face to face with us so that we had as much good cheer as if we had been there.

The first I will question is a strong man and his wife, and so to them I'll say: "Who was Jesus?"

Both their faces brightened, and they both eagerly listened. "Why, he came to us at the wedding, though, we were only poor and unknown people, and turned the water into wine for us, so that we had as much good cheer as if we had been there."

And from countless other homes came similar testimony that Jesus was a guest at the wedding, and that he was a great and wonderful man, and that he turned the water into wine for us, so that we had as much good cheer as if we had been there."

Next I see a father, a lordly man, and with him walks a noble young man of French, open face.

"Who was Jesus?" I say to this father, and his eyes kindled with a great joy, as he makes quick reply:

"Why, sir, it was Jesus who gave me back this life when all the doctors said that he must die. It was Jesus who turned sorrow into joy for me and mine. That is why the Jesus was the light and comfort of my house."

The next witness I would summon is a man so strong and robust that he seems never to have had an ill day in his life.

Let me ask him, "Who was Jesus?" Instantly his face is so radiant it is evident that he has just heard the name of his best friend.

"Who was Jesus? Why, sir, it was Jesus who made life so full of joy to me to-day."

"I had long been a lover, but one day I saw Jesus coming down a mountain, followed by a great multitude, and without stopping I took to my heels, and I ran and fell on my knees before him, and cried out, 'Lord, if I will, Thou shalt make me clean.'"

"Instead of rebuking me as I deserved for my insane presumption, He said He had pity on me and said, 'I will, He thou clean, and instantly I was sound and well again, for my flesh had become like that of a little child. I said to a woman, a woman who has silver in her hair, but her face is young, and she has a look of happy content."

Let me ask her the great question, "Who was Jesus?" and at the name a great light transpired, her face was lit up, and she said:

"Why, sir, it was Jesus who brought my son again to life when he was dead, and all was so dark and gloomy in my poor heart. The boy was all I had, but one day he was brought home very ill and in three days he was dead."

"The time came for his burial, and we were taking his poor body out to the place of death, and when we had almost come to the grave we met a large company, and a man came forward who looked upon the man with great compassion, and said, 'Weep not.'"

"Then this man, and touched the shroud, and the shroud fell from the dead, and he arose! Then he that was dead sat up and began to speak, and then he was restored to me, and we returned to our home with great joy."

"And, sir, that was Jesus who gave me back my life, and my son who died alive again, become one of His most earnest disciples from that hour."

WHO THEN WAS JESUS?

It was Jesus who wrought all the great and mighty works we have been considering. It was Jesus who had compassion on the multitude, who wept over Jerusalem and the grave of Lazarus. It was Jesus who never turned a deaf ear to the cry of the needy who sought His help.

It was Jesus who never lifted His hand except in blessing, and who considered it a privilege to be called a friend to the lowly and the poor. He is the champion Christ, who is the same yesterday, to-day and forever more.

That is He who was and is and always will be.

Let us praise the power of Jesus' name! Let us praise the power of Jesus' name! Bring forth the royal diadem, and crown Him Lord of all!

And crown Him Lord of all!

And crown Him Lord of all!

HAS CHRIST A MISSION FOR YOU?

Often people ask me what is the use of becoming a Christian if I believe there is work for them in the kingdom of God. And then I reply by quoting this beautiful poem by Paul Lawrence Dunbar, the negro poet who recently died.

Lord had a job for me, but I had so much to do, I said: 'You get somebody else—or wait till I get through.' I don't know how the Lord came, but He came to get me. But I felt kinda nervous 'like 'cause I knowed I done Him wrong.

One day I needed the Lord, and Him myself—needed Him right away. And He never answered me at all, but I could hear Him.

Down in my account heart—'Nigger, I've got too much to do, You get somebody else, or wait till I get through.' Now when the Lord He came to get me, I never tried to shrink; I drops what I have on hand or do the good Lord's work.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.

And my office can run along, And my work I can get through. Nobody else can do the job that God's marked out for you.
